

Lit Long : Edinburgh °

We cordially invite you to join us on 30th March 2015 at the launch of Lit Long: Edinburgh

Lit Long is an interactive resource of Edinburgh literature emerging from the Palimpsest project. It features a range of maps and accessible visualisations, which enable users to interact with Edinburgh's literature in a variety of ways, exploring the spatial relations of the literary city at particular times in its history, in the works of particular authors, or across different eras, genres and writers.

We will be joined by Edinburgh author Doug Johnstone, who will read from his work. There will also be a casual wine reception.

Date: 30th March 2015

Time: 6:30 - 9:30 pm

Location: 50 George Square, Project Room (rm 1.06), Edinburgh, EH8 9JX
